WORKSHOP ON ECOBRICKS

Burning plastics not only creates hazardous gases but the ashes from burnt plastics are hazardous to our agricultural land and the entire environment. Therefore, Ecobricks is one of the best ways of plastic waste management. An Ecobrick is a recyclable plastic bottle filled with non- recyclable waste – plastic wrappers, etc. They can be used in construction, building blocks in making decorative borders in gardens, furniture, etc. Children were oriented on the consequences of consumption and the dangers of plastic waste. They were taught the step-by-step process of ecobricking, to keep stuffing dry waste into plastic bottles with the help of sticks or rod.

The workshop also made children realise the importance of team work and they pledged to collect all the plastic wrappers which they use because everyone has the tendency of throwing it once having chocolates or some edible things.
